NVIDIA Announces Financial Results for First Quarter Fiscal 2026

- Revenue of $44.1 billion, up 12% from Q4 and up 69% from a year ago
- Data Center revenue of $39.1 billion, up 10% from Q4 and up 73% from a year ago

SANTA CLARA, Calif.—May 28, 2025—NVIDIA (NASDAQ: NVDA) today reported revenue for the first quarter ended April 27, 2025, of $44.1 billion, up 12% from the previous quarter and up 69% from a year ago.

On April 9, 2025, NVIDIA was informed by the U.S. government that a license is required for exports of its H20 products into the China market. As a result of these new requirements, NVIDIA incurred a $4.5 billion charge in the first quarter of fiscal 2026 associated with H20 excess inventory and purchase obligations as the demand for H20 diminished. Sales of H20 products were $4.6 billion for the first quarter of fiscal 2026 prior to the new export licensing requirements. NVIDIA was unable to ship an additional $2.5 billion of H20 revenue in the first quarter.

For the quarter, GAAP and non-GAAP gross margins were 60.5% and 61.0%, respectively. Excluding the $4.5 billion charge, first quarter non-GAAP gross margin would have been 71.3%.

For the quarter, GAAP and non-GAAP earnings per diluted share were $0.76 and $0.81, respectively. Excluding the $4.5 billion charge and related tax impact, first quarter non-GAAP diluted earnings per share would have been $0.96.

“Our breakthrough Blackwell NVL72 AI supercomputer — a ‘thinking machine’ designed for reasoning— is now in full-scale production across system makers and cloud service providers,” said Jensen Huang, founder and CEO of NVIDIA. “Global demand for NVIDIA’s AI infrastructure is incredibly strong. AI inference token generation has surged tenfold in just one year, and as AI agents become mainstream, the demand for AI computing will accelerate. Countries around the world are recognizing AI as essential infrastructure — just like electricity and the internet — and NVIDIA stands at the center of this profound transformation.”

NVIDIA will pay its next quarterly cash dividend of $0.01 per share on July 3, 2025, to all shareholders of record on June 11, 2025.

Outlook

NVIDIA's outlook for the second quarter of fiscal 2026 is as follows:

- Revenue is expected to be $45.0 billion, plus or minus 2%. This outlook reflects a loss in H20 revenue of approximately $8.0 billion due to the recent export control limitations.
- GAAP and non-GAAP gross margins are expected to be 71.8% and 72.0%, respectively, plus or minus 50 basis points. The company is continuing to work toward achieving gross margins in the mid-70% range late this year.
- GAAP and non-GAAP operating expenses are expected to be approximately $5.7 billion and $4.0 billion, respectively. Full year fiscal 2026 operating expense growth is expected to be in the mid-30% range.
- GAAP and non-GAAP other income and expense are expected to be an income of approximately $450 million, excluding gains and losses from non-marketable and publicly-held equity securities.
- GAAP and non-GAAP tax rates are expected to be 16.5%, plus or minus 1%, excluding any discrete items.

Highlights

- First-quarter revenue was $39.1 billion, up 10% from the previous quarter and up 73% from a year ago.
- Announced that NVIDIA is building factories in the U.S. and working with its partners to produce NVIDIA AI supercomputers in the U.S.
- Introduced NVIDIA Blackwell Ultra and NVIDIA Dynamo for accelerating and scaling AI reasoning models.
- Announced partnership with HUMAIN to build AI factories in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia to drive the next wave of artificial intelligence development.
- Unveiled Stargate UAE, a next-generation AI infrastructure cluster in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates, alongside strategic partners G42, OpenAI, Oracle, SoftBank Group and Cisco.
- Revealed plans to work with Foxconn and the Taiwan government to build an AI factory supercomputer.
- Announced NVIDIA is speeding the IT infrastructure transition to enterprise AI factories with NVIDIA RTX PRO™ Servers.
- Unveiled NVLink Fusion™ for industry to build semi-custom AI infrastructure with NVIDIA's partner ecosystem.
- Announced NVIDIA Spectrum-X™ and NVIDIA Quantum-X silicon photonics networking switches to scale AI factories to millions of GPUs.
- Introduced the NVIDIA DGX SuperPOD™ built with NVIDIA Blackwell Ultra GPUs to provide AI factory supercomputing for agentic AI reasoning.
- Announced joint initiatives with Alphabet and Google to advance agentic AI solutions, robotics and drug discovery.
- Announced integration between NVIDIA accelerated computing and inference software with Oracle's AI infrastructure.
- Revealed that NVIDIA Blackwell cloud instances are now available on AWS, Google Cloud, Microsoft Azure and Oracle Cloud Infrastructure.
- Announced that the NVIDIA Blackwell platform set records in the latest MLPerf inference results, delivering up to 30x higher throughput.
- Announced NVIDIA DGX Cloud Lepton™ to connect developers to NVIDIA's global compute ecosystem.
- Launched the open Llama Nemotron family of models with reasoning capabilities, providing a foundation for creating advanced AI agents.
- Introduced the NVIDIA AI Data Platform, a customizable reference design for AI inference workloads.
- Announced the opening of a research center in Japan that hosts the world's largest quantum research supercomputer.

Gaming and AI PC

- First-quarter Gaming revenue was a record $3.8 billion, up 48% from the previous quarter and up 42% from a year ago.

- Announced the NVIDIA GeForce RTX™ 5070 and RTX 5060, bringing Blackwell graphics to gamers at prices starting from $299 for desktops and $1,099 for laptops.
- Unveiled NVIDIA DLSS 4 is now available in over 125 games, including Black Myth Wukong, DOOM: The Dark Ages, Indiana Jones and the Great Circle, Marvel Rivals and Star Wars Outlaws.
- Announced the Nintendo Switch 2 is powered by an NVIDIA processor and AI-powered DLSS, delivering up to 4K gaming.
- Launched the NVIDIA RTX Remix modding platform, attracting over 2 million gamers, alongside the release of the Half-Life 2 RTX demo.

Professional Visualization

- First-quarter revenue was $509 million, flat with the previous quarter and up 19% from a year ago.
- Announced the NVIDIA RTX PRO™ Blackwell series for workstations and servers.
- Unveiled NVIDIA DGX Spark and DGX Station™ personal AI supercomputers powered by the NVIDIA Grace Blackwell platform.
- Announced that leading industrial software and service providers Accenture, Ansys, Databricks, SAP, Schneider Electric with ETAP, and Siemens are integrating the NVIDIA Omniverse™ platform into their solutions to accelerate industrial digitalization with physical AI.

Automotive and Robotics

- First-quarter Automotive revenue was $567 million, down 1% from the previous quarter and up 72% from a year ago.
- Announced a collaboration with General Motors on next-generation vehicles, factories and robots using NVIDIA Omniverse, NVIDIA Cosmos™ and NVIDIA DRIVE AGX™.
- Launched NVIDIA Halos, a unified safety system combining NVIDIA's automotive hardware, software and advanced AV safety AI research.
- Announced NVIDIA Isaac™ GR00T N1, the world's first open humanoid robot foundation model, followed by NVIDIA Isaac™ GR00T N1.5; NVIDIA Isaac GR00T-Dreams, a blueprint for generating synthetic motion data; and NVIDIA Blackwell systems to accelerate humanoid robot development.
- Released new NVIDIA Cosmos™ world foundation models and physical AI data tools.

CFO Commentary

Commentary on the quarter by Colette Kress, NVIDIA's executive vice president and chief financial officer, is available at <https://investor.nvidia.com>.

Conference Call and Webcast Information

NVIDIA will conduct a conference call with analysts and investors to discuss its first quarter fiscal 2026 financial results and current financial prospects today at 2 p.m. Pacific time (5 p.m. Eastern time). A live webcast (listen-only mode) of the conference call will be accessible at NVIDIA's investor relations website, <https://investor.nvidia.com>. The webcast will be recorded and available for replay until NVIDIA's conference call to discuss its financial results for its second quarter of fiscal 2026.

Non-GAAP Measures

To supplement NVIDIA's condensed consolidated financial statements presented in accordance with GAAP, the company uses non-GAAP measures of certain components of financial performance. These non-GAAP measures include non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP gross margin, non-GAAP operating expenses, non-GAAP operating income, non-GAAP other income (expense), net, non-GAAP net income, non-GAAP net income, or earnings, per diluted share, and free cash flow. For NVIDIA's investors to be better able to compare its current results with those of previous periods, the company has shown a reconciliation of GAAP to non-GAAP financial measures. These reconciliations adjust the related GAAP financial measures to exclude stock-based compensation expense, acquisition-related and other costs, other, gains/losses from non-marketable and publicly-held equity securities, net, interest expense related to amortization of debt discount, H2O excess inventory and purchase obligation charges, and the associated tax impact of these items where applicable. The inclusion of H2O excess inventory and purchase obligation charges in the reconciliations to adjust the related GAAP financial measures was a result of the U.S. government informing NVIDIA on April 9, 2025 that it requires a license for export to China of H2O products. H2O products were designed primarily for the China market. Free cash flow is calculated as GAAP net cash provided by operating activities less both purchases related to property and equipment and intangible assets and principal payments on property and equipment and intangible assets. NVIDIA believes the presentation of its non-GAAP financial measures enhances the user's overall understanding of the company's historical financial performance. The presentation of the company's non-GAAP financial measures is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the company's financial results prepared in accordance with GAAP, and the company's non-GAAP measures may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies.

We specialize in markets where our computing platforms can provide tremendous acceleration for applications. These platforms incorporate processors, interconnects, software, algorithms, systems, and services to deliver unique value. Our platforms address four large markets where our expertise is critical: Data Center, Gaming, Professional Visualization, and Automotive.

On April 9, 2025, we were informed by the U.S. government that a license is required for exports of our H2O products into the China market. As a result of these new requirements, we incurred a $4.5 billion charge in the first quarter of fiscal 2026 associated with H2O excess inventory and purchase obligations as the demand for H2O diminished. The $4.5 billion charge was less than what we initially anticipated as we were able to re-use certain materials. Sales of our H2O products were $4.6 billion for the first quarter of fiscal 2026 prior to the new export licensing requirements. We were unable to ship an additional $2.5 billion of H2O revenue in the first quarter.

GAAP gross margin was 60.5%, and GAAP diluted earnings per share was $0.76. Excluding the $4.5 billion charge and related tax impact, first quarter non-GAAP gross margin would have been 71.3% and non-GAAP diluted earnings per share would have been $0.96.

Revenue

Revenue for the first quarter was $44.1 billion, up 69% from a year ago and up 12% sequentially.

Data Center revenue for the first quarter was $39.1 billion, up 73% from a year ago and up 10% sequentially. The strong year-on-year and sequential growth was driven by demand for our accelerated computing platform used for large language models, recommendation engines, and generative and agentic AI applications. We saw our Blackwell architecture ramp expand to all customer categories, while large cloud service providers remained our largest at just under 50% of Data Center revenue. Data Center compute revenue was $34.2 billion, up 76% from a year ago and up 5% sequentially. Networking revenue was $5.0 billion, up 56% from a year ago and up 64% sequentially, driven by the growth of NVLink compute fabric in our GB200 systems and continued adoption of Ethernet for AI solutions at cloud service providers and consumer internet companies.

Gaming revenue for the first quarter was a record, up 42% from a year ago and up 48% sequentially, driven by sales of our Blackwell architecture, the fastest ramp in company history.

Professional Visualization revenue for the first quarter was up 19% from a year ago and flat sequentially. The increase from a year ago was driven by broader adoption of Ada RTX workstation GPUs, addressing workflows in AI acceleration, real-time graphics rendering and data simulation.

Automotive revenue for the first quarter was up 72% from a year ago and down 1% sequentially. The increase from a year ago was driven by sales of our self-driving platforms.

Gross Margin

GAAP and non-GAAP gross margins for the first quarter decreased from a year ago and sequentially, primarily due to a $4.5 billion charge associated with H2O excess inventory and purchase obligations and the initial ramp of more sophisticated systems within Data Center.

Expenses

GAAP operating expenses for the first quarter were up 44% from a year ago and up 7% sequentially, and non-GAAP operating expenses were up 43% from a year ago and up 6% sequentially. The year-on-year increases were primarily driven by higher compensation and benefits expenses due to employee growth and compensation increases, and compute, infrastructure and engineering development costs for new product introductions. The sequential increases were primarily driven by higher compensation and benefits due to compensation increases and employee growth.

Other Income & Expense and Income Tax

GAAP other income and expense (OI&E) includes interest income, interest expense, and non-marketable and publicly-held equity securities gains or losses. Non-GAAP OI&E excludes non-marketable and publicly-held equity securities gains or losses.

Interest income for the first quarter was $515 million, up from a year ago and sequentially, reflecting growth in cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities. Net losses for the first quarter were $175 million, driven by losses in publicly-held equity securities, partially offset by gains in non-marketable securities.

GAAP effective tax rate for the first quarter was 14.3%, an increase from a year ago reflecting a lower stock-based compensation tax benefit, partially offset by a higher foreign-derived intangible income deduction tax benefit. Non-GAAP effective tax rate for the first quarter was 16.1%.

Balance Sheet and Cash Flow

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities were $53.7 billion, up from $31.4 billion a year ago and $43.2 billion a quarter ago. The increases primarily reflect higher revenue partially offset by stock repurchases.

Accounts receivable was $22.1 billion with 46 days sales outstanding (DSO), down from 53 days sequentially, driven by improved shipment linearity and timing of cash collections.

Inventory was $11.3 billion with 59 days sales of inventory (DSI). Inventory increased from $10.1 billion, and DSI decreased from 86 days sequentially. Purchase commitments and obligations for inventory and manufacturing capacity were $29.8 billion, including new capacity commitments and components. Supply and capacity prepayments were $4.2 billion.

Other non-inventory purchase obligations were $13.7 billion, including $10.6 billion of multi-year cloud service agreements, down from $14.3 billion sequentially, driven by utilization of our cloud service agreements. We expect cloud service agreements to be used to support our research and development efforts and our DGX Cloud offerings.

Cash flow from operating activities was $27.4 billion, up from $15.3 billion a year ago and up from $16.6 billion a quarter ago. The year-on-year increase reflects higher revenue and timing of cash collections. The sequential increase was driven by higher revenue, timing of cash collections, and lower cash taxes. We expect a substantial increase in cash taxes in the second quarter related to estimated federal and state cash tax payments.

We utilized cash of $14.3 billion towards shareholder returns, including $14.1 billion in share repurchases and $244 million in cash dividends.

Second Quarter of Fiscal 2026 Outlook

Outlook for the second quarter of fiscal 2026 is as follows:

- Revenue is expected to be $45.0 billion, plus or minus 2%. This outlook reflects a loss in H2O revenue of approximately $8.0 billion due to the recent export control limitations.
- GAAP and non-GAAP gross margins are expected to be 71.8% and 72.0%, respectively, plus or minus 50 basis points. We are continuing to work toward achieving gross margins in the mid-70% range late this year.
- GAAP and non-GAAP operating expenses are expected to be approximately $5.7 billion and $4.0 billion, respectively. We expect full year fiscal 2026 operating expense growth to be in the mid-30% range.
- GAAP and non-GAAP other income and expense are expected to be an income of approximately $450 million, excluding gains and losses from non-marketable and publicly-held equity securities.
- GAAP and non-GAAP tax rates are expected to be 16.5%, plus or minus 1%, excluding any discrete items.

Non-GAAP Measures

To supplement NVIDIA's condensed consolidated financial statements presented in accordance with GAAP, the company uses non-GAAP measures of certain components of financial performance. These non-GAAP measures include non-GAAP gross profit, non-GAAP gross margin, non-GAAP operating expenses, non-GAAP operating income, non-GAAP other income (expense), net, non-GAAP net income, non-GAAP net income, or earnings, per diluted share, and free cash flow. For NVIDIA's investors to be better able to compare its current results with those of previous periods, the company has shown a reconciliation of GAAP to non-GAAP financial measures. These reconciliations adjust the related GAAP financial measures to exclude stock-based compensation expense, acquisition-related and other costs, other, gains/losses from non-marketable and publicly-held equity securities, net, interest expense related to amortization of debt discount, H2O excess inventory and purchase obligation charges, and the associated tax impact of these items where applicable. The inclusion of H2O excess inventory and purchase obligation charges in the reconciliations to adjust the related GAAP financial measures was a result of the U.S. government informing NVIDIA on April 9, 2025 that it requires a license for export to China of H2O products. H2O products were designed primarily for the China market. Free cash flow is calculated as GAAP net cash provided by operating activities less both purchases related to property and equipment and intangible assets and principal payments on property and equipment and intangible assets. NVIDIA believes the presentation of its non-GAAP financial measures enhances the user's overall understanding of the company's historical financial performance. The presentation of the company's non-GAAP financial measures is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the company's financial results prepared in accordance with GAAP, and the company's non-GAAP measures may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies.
